

Abstract of the Disclosure

A process for the formation of fiberboard where the fiber stock suspension is dewatered on two sides between wires or felts, a top wire being provided in the main dewatering zone.